

Top-up opportunities – Use your car for more than just ridesharing

We enable you to make money by driving. And not just ridesharing. There's a world of other opportunities out there and if you think outside the box, driving is as versatile as you make it.

As far as on-demand gigs go, you can do so much more with your car than just rideshare driving. Once you have a good car, you have a powerful tool on your hands to earn an income.

In times of low demand or if you just need a change of pace, you can use your car to do courier work such as parcel- or food deliveries.

Check out our list with some of the most popular delivery apps in Australia and top up your rideshare income:

Food delivery

Uber Eats

Uber Eats is an online food ordering and delivery platform. You can use your own car and work as much or as little as you want—even for an hour or less at a time.

As a special consideration, Uber has agreed to activate cross - dispatch for all Splend members and soon you will see a notification in your Uber Driver app.

You will then be asked via the app to accept the terms and conditions to start undertaking delivering and will be given info about how to start.

You would need to access a delivery bag which are available via Detpack
If you wish to opt-out of this, please send us an email at hello@splend.com.au

Requirements to drive with Uber Eats:

- Since you are an active Uber Driver, you are automatically eligible for Uber Eats

Signing up to drive with Uber Eats:

- Splend has been working with Uber to activate your account on Uber Eats without you having to undergo any further process

Local restaurants

With the delivery demand booming, we suggest you also reach out to your local cafes, restaurants & pizzerias to offer delivery services to these businesses.

Courier and parcel delivery

Yello

With Yello, you can choose not only your working hours, but also the retailers you deliver for. They charge a one-time onboarding fee as opposed to a commission after your deliveries. You can use the promo code SPLENDYELLO and get 80% off on the signup with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
